

Disability Inclusive IDP Camps in South Sudan

Capacity Building programme for Humanitarian Organisations

Participation in a practical five day Training of Trainers from June 24 to 28, 2019
1-2 persons per organization

In this capacity building programme you will learn what practical steps to take to include people with disabilities in the IDP camp services and programmes of your organisation

FOR WHOM?

Humanitarian Aid organizations that want to make their services disability inclusive.
There is space for maximum of 20 participants.

This capacity building programme will help your organisation to:

- Build up capacity of it's staff to understand disability inclusion from a rights based perspective
- Identify the barriers that exclude people with disabilities in the context of humanitarian action
- Assess the accessibility of it's IDP Camp services and programmes.
- Find practical solutions to overcome barriers and include people with disabilities in the IDP camp projects.
- Make your own organisational action plan on inclusion of people with disabilities in projects.

COSTS

This capacity building programme is financed and organised by Light for the World.

Participation of one participant in the training of trainers sessions organized in Juba will be free of charge. We will cover expenses for meals and materials for two staff members to participate in the TOT and the learning & sharing sessions.

is an international NGO promoting inclusion of people with disability in development and humanitarian action. This is done through capacity development of development actors and by piloting and developing joint inclusive projects with these actors. Based on these experiences LIGHT FOR THE WORLD has developed several guidelines and international training programmes on disability inclusive development. This capacity building programme is based on LIGHT for the Worlds own experience in disability inclusion in two IDP camps in Juba.
